UNC-ASHEVILLE STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

WHAT IS SDS?

Students for a Democratic Society, a student group that originated in the 1960's, is back again. Since Martin Luther King Day of 2006, over 200 chapters of SDS have started up all around the country—from NYC to LA, Iowa to Alabama. SDS is a multi-issue progressive group that organizes against all forms of oppression for a better world. SDS stands firmly for immigrant rights and human rights. SDS works -in solidarity with the people of Iraq, Colombia, Palestine, and the Philippines against US invasion, occupation, and intervention.

UNITY STATEMENT

We as UNCA SDS are a group that is dedicated to the fight against imperialism. We are for positive social, political, and economic change. We are actively involved in fighting for this change through activism.

We stand in resolute opposition to the war in Iraq and protest the current occupation. We demand US troops out of Iraq now. We are against all imperialist wars and interventions including those in Colombia and Palestine.

We fight to create a world free of sexism, free of racism, free of heterosexism, and free of war. We are against all forms of oppression and we actively struggle both within ourselves and within our communities against these types of chauvinism and support all others who fight alongside of us.

We are for human rights, and believe that all have the right to education, housing, healthcare, clean water, and food.

We join with our brothers and sisters in campuses across the world as Students for a Democratic Society to increase all phases of democracy in our lives and to engage in the struggle for a better world. We, as youth and students, have the power to enact real social change – and we are fighting for this.

Dare to struggle – Dare to win!
